HATEFUL VANDALS RUIN BENSALEM HOME

Buses Fired On In South's Racial Fight

By UNITED PRESS

Determined attempts by Negroes to desegregate buses in three Southern cities today brought gunfire and arrests.

In Tallahassee, Fla., an unusual twist to the Dixie race issue found the local bus company on the side of the Negroes. Nine drivers and a company manager were arrested there for failing to enforce segregation rules.

In Montgomery, Ala., two buses were fired on but there were no injuries.

In Birmingham, Ala., Negroes voted to hit the industrial metropolis with a mass integration attempt but later toned down the threat with a suggestion that each Negro "use his own conscience" about where to ride.

In Mobile, Ala., where the bus firm voluntarily announced a desegregation policy later countermanded by the city commission—a morning check showed no attempt by Negroes to ride on front seats.

Nine .22-caliber slugs riddled one bus in Montgomery and shotguns were fired in another last night, causing occupants to "hit the floor." They escaped injury.

The gunfire failed to halt Negro integration efforts. They were sitting where they pleased again today without further incident.

As the situation grew tense in Birmingham, Alabama Public Service Commission President Jack Owen warned that the transit service there might be forced out of business if its "narrow margin of profit" is cut by integration moves. The state guarantees public utilities a fair return on investments and Owen said the commission could not prevent the utility from dropping its franchise.

Twenty-one Birmingham Negroes were under arrest for violating segregation laws. At a midnight meeting Negro leaders switched plans and announced.

Man Cleared In Rape Trial

A Bucks county criminal court jury took less than 45 minutes this morning to acquit a 28-year-old Trenton man of statutory rape charges involving a 15-year-old girl on the night of Aug. 12.

The jury, given the case shortly after 10:35 a.m., returned at 11:20 with the not guilty verdict in favor of Weldon Audette, 112 South Clinton avenue, a painting contractor.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite commended the jury for its action and said, "My own personal opinion was that your verdict was right."

Audette was accused by a 15-year-old Trenton girl of having relations with her while they were in a parked car near a Yardley home.

Well, we see where U. S. Steel is planning to go ahead with its Fairless Hills expansion despite governmental refusal of tax aid.

That figured all along. It would be dandy if they'd get that job started and a half dozen other industries would move alongside so everything would be shipshape when the ships begin fog-horning up the newly-deepened Delaware.

Vandals all but wreck a lovely Bensalem township home and Chief Riempff brands them nothing but lunatics.

The chief had a job cut out for himself. The hoodlums should be brought to justice as quickly as possible.

Here's a tip: Spend a couple of hours doing the night-beat in Lower Bucks before the week is out.

You just never saw such beautifully decorated homes in your life. Hey, this Christmas business can last till spring for all we care.

Surest way to get a job done is to give it to a busy man. He'll have his secretary do it.

Gals may suffer in many ways. But never in silence.

Inflation: A state of affairs when you never had it so good or parted with it so fast.

Driving? Watch it.

Vandals caused an estimated $10,000 damage to the home. The fireplace and screen, mirror over mantel, rugs, walls and other items were splattered with paint. (Courier and Times Photo)

Suez Clearing To Proceed Immediately

Snow Flurries And Rain Sprinkle Lower Bucks Area

PORT SAID — UP — Clearing of the Suez Canal will start immediately, an official announcement said today.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, chief of the United Nations salvage operations force, told United Press in an interview that work would begin at Suez in the south Friday. But the U.N. information office in Cairo and Cairo Radio announced that clearing operations should "start immediately," and quoted Wheeler as saying the work will begin today.

Wheeler, the retired American general in charge of the United Nations salvage operations, told the United Press he had received permission only today from the Egyptian government to begin the operations.

"We have been permitted to begin clearing operations in the Suez area tomorrow morning with salvor's equipment," he said.

Receives Communication

"The Egyptian government's permission to start salvage operations was communicated to me this morning by Col. Mahmoud Younis, general manager of the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority."

Official sources in Cairo already had announced that an accord for canal clearance was reached in negotiations between UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi in New York.

But the announcement did not state when the work would begin. However, UN sources said they expected it to begin any time and (Continued on Page 3, Col. 4)

490 Holiday Deaths Seen

(By UNITED PRESS)

With the shock of the worst holiday traffic toll in history still fresh in the nation's mind, safety experts predicted another 490 Americans will be killed needlessly during the New Year's week end.

The National Safety Council said it is counting on the "shock factors" of the all-time record Christmas holiday traffic slaughter to help hold down the toll this weekend.

The 490 figure is only 70 more than the normal rate of 420 deaths for a four-day period in December. The New Year's holiday begins at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight next Tuesday.

All-Time Record Smashed

Warner Freight Train Overturns

Cars on a Warner Co. train overturned early this afternoon on the company property near Pennsbury Manor in Falls town. No injuries were reported.

Paint Smears Cause $10,000 In Damage

Police today were searching for vengeance-minded vandals who caused an estimated $10,000 damage to the home of William H. States, Jr., Bensalem township school director and trucking firm head.

The vandals broke into the $25,000, 10-room home, located at Hulmeville road and Park avenue, Eddington, and smeared nine gallons of paint over furniture, rugs, walls and clothing. Just about every personal belonging in the house was ruined by the paint.

Police Chief William Riempff called in Philadelphia police for assistance. He asked Police Commissioner Thomas Gibbons to send the crime laboratory to go over the home in the search for clues.

Meanwhile, the chief was trying to locate States who left with his family for Florida on a Christmas vacation last weekend. States' exact location was not known yesterday.

Chief Riempff said he would check States' background to see who might feel they had a reason to hate the victim.

After inspecting the shambles, Chief Riempff said, "Whoever did this must have had a bad hate. This job is too thorough for an ordinary case of vandalism."

Slash Furniture

In addition to smearing and pouring the paint the vandals slashed the upholstered furniture in the living room.

States and his family were in Florida on a Christmas vacation at the time. The damage was discovered by his sister, Mrs. Ethel Correll, 436 St. Paul street, Philadelphia.

She said States called her 8:15 Saturday night and said he was leaving for Florida and asked her to check the house. Yesterday afternoon, she said, she went to the house to turn on the sump pump which keeps water out of the cellar.

When she saw what had happened she immediately notified Bensalem police.

Chief Riempff said the thieves had apparently broken open a safe which was located in a first (Continued on Page 3, Col. 5)

Man Acquitted Of Burglary

A Bucks County Criminal Court jury last night acquitted Paul Bellino, Trenton, of a 1954 Morrisville burglary charge.

Bellino, defended by Attorney Alan Williams, Doylestown, denied the charges during his trial yesterday.

He was implicated in the $1000 burglary of the home of John Antibite, 147 Park avenue, Morrisville, on May 5, 1954, by Louis W. Hartel, Trenton.

Hartel, who testified against Bellino yesterday, previously pleaded guilty to the burglary and served time in prison.

The trial of Bellino was delayed because of other charges against the men involved.

Hartel had implicated three other men besides Bellino in the burglary.

One, Frank Monte, Trenton, was also acquitted by a previous criminal court jury.

Bucks Woman Killed By Car

A 68-year-old Hilltown township woman was killed yesterday afternoon by an automobile on Route 309 about a mile and a half south of Sellersville.

Mrs. Katherine Klumpp was dead on arrival at North Penn Hospital, Lansdale. She suffered a fractured skull and two broken legs.

The woman was killed after stepping from an Allentown to Philadelphia bus, following a shopping trip to Allentown.

She was struck by a car driven by Gerald Kilmer, 27, of Telford. Kilmer said he did not see the woman until she stepped away from the bus.

Accountant Plans Aid To Needy Fund

Another chapter has been added to the Immel story...aid is to be offered any Fairless Hills family or person with a true hardship case.

James Immel's new-found friend, Mervin Friedman, 229 Stanwood road, Fairless Hills, who is handling the Immel funds and helping him see that the bills get paid and into the right hands, has offered similar help to any Fairless family in "true hardship" circumstances.

Mr. Friedman said, "I feel there's a real need in Fairless Hills for an aid group designed to help others help themselves."

Home First

The Fairless Hills accountant recognizes a universal need for such a society, but said, "I live in Fairless Hills and I feel it's our immediate need."

Mr. Friedman's idea, worked out with Mr. Immel, is to set up an aid society to help any and all true hardship cases in the Hills area. A fund would be set up from donations and the need- (Continued on Page 3, Col. 2)

Fairless Expansion Appears Set

Tax Cut Refusal Not Seen Halting Steel Mill's Growth

It appears that U.S. Steel Corp. will go ahead with the $94,400,000 expansion of the Fairless Works, although "disappointed" by its failure to get quick federal tax write-off benefits on the project.

A U.S. Steel statement this morning said the company "will do everything possible to continue its program with regard to its facilities." But it said the government's decision "will cause delays in the completion of some projects and deferment of others."

U.S. Steel did not name the Fairless Works, one of several plants where it plans enlargements costing a total of $460,000,000. The company last summer asked the U.S. Office of Defense Mobilization for permission to rapidly pay off the construction costs for exemptions that would defer some of the taxes until later years.

Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming late yesterday confirmed reports that he would not permit the tax aid, and said it would be restricted to national defense and "rock bottom" civilian needs in a full mobilization.

Tax Changes

U.S. Steel called for changes in the tax laws for the "basic solution to the financial difficulties of every industry where large amounts of money are needed for long-lived equipment."

The Fairless expansion was announced to take place over 18 months, and increase the plant work force from 6500 to 8500.

In all, the nation's steel industry requested the fast amortization for $2,300,000,000 in new machinery (Continued on Page 3, Col. 3)

Lower Makefield Twp. Residents Hope For Sewer Improvements

Residents of Lower Makefield township may be getting relief soon from the dampness felt in some of the area homes.

Civic associations have claimed that seepage from improper drainage conditions has damaged some houses.

A recent survey was made by representatives of the State Department of Water and Forests to check the leakage coming from the Delaware Division of the Pennsylvania Canal.

It has been the contention of many of the civic associations that this is the cause of much of the area's trouble.

The state representative examined various spots along the canal for possibilities of leakage. Some of the leakage is reported to be going into swamp lands in the township. Much of the leakage, the associations claim, is going into the homes.

A report will be formulated by the state representative and state authorities will be advised as to the conditions of the canal.

Lower Makefield township supervisors will be advised as to planned state action at a later date.

The township supervisors are to report to the civic associations as to the progress of the sewer situation at the supervisors' next session on Jan. 7.

Morrisville School Physician Dies at 68

Dr. James M. Klenk, who served as a school doctor for Morrisville high school, died yesterday of a heart attack while treating a patient at a Lower Makefield township home.

Dr. Klenk, 68, who lived at 307 North Pennsylvania avenue, was graduated from Jefferson Medical College in 1911 and interned at Frankford Hospital.

He was a veteran of World War I and served as a medical corps lieutenant. After discharge from service, he headed the hospital at Tullytown Arsenal.

He moved to Morrisville in 1928 from Tullytown. He was on the staff of Mercer Hospital, Trenton, and also was associated with Frankford Hospital. He also was a member of the Bucks County Medical Association and Pennsylvania State Medical Society.

Industrial Surgeon

Dr. Klenk was a member of Phi Beta Phi fraternity at Jefferson Medical College. He was surgical physician for Morrisville industrial plants.

He was also a member of the Morrisville Presbyterian Church, Bristol Lodge 25, F&AM; Sanford-Diletto American Legion Post 433 and Morrisville Capitol View Fire Co. No. 2.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lily Hill Klenk; a son, Charles M. of Makefield Manor and a granddaughter, Carolyn.

The funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday from the J. Allen Hooper Funeral Chapel, Morrisville. The Rev. Clifford G. Pollock, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church will officiate. Interment will be in Newtown Cemetery.

Bulb Burglars Still On Spree

It's two days after Christmas and the bulb snatchers are still running strong in Morrisville.

Morrisville police reported that five teenage youngsters were picked up yesterday and questioned in connection with stealing bulbs and accessories from the trees of local homes.

Police said that the young bulb snatchers were mostly 13 and 14-year-olds.

The boys were brought in to police headquarters and when asked why they took the bulbs, a spokesman for the group shrugged his shoulders and replied, "I don't know. It seemed like fun."

Police said the boys had promised to pay for the damage they did and the bulbs that were taken.

With accessories and fixtures, police estimated that costs might come close to $40 for the youngsters.

Bulb Burglars Still On Spree

It's two days after Christmas and the bulb burglars are still running strong in Morrisville.

Morrisville police reported that five teenage youngsters were picked up yesterday and questioned in connection with stealing bulbs and accessories from the trees of local homes.

Police said that the young bulb snatchers were mostly 13 and 14-year-olds.

The boys were brought in to police headquarters and when asked why they took the bulbs, a spokesman for the group shrugged his shoulders and replied, "I don't know. It seemed like fun."

Police said the boys had promised to pay for the damage they did and the bulbs that were taken.

With accessories and fixtures, police estimated that costs might come close to $40 for the youngsters.

HATEFUL VANDALS RUIN BENSALEM HOME

Buses Fired On In South's Racial Fight

By UNITED PRESS
Determined attempts by Negroes to desegregate buses in three Southern cities today brought gunfire and arrests.

In Tallahassee, Fla., an unusual twist to the Dixie race issue found the local bus company on the side of the Negroes. Nine drivers and a company manager were arrested there for failing to enforce segregation rules.

Flames Spread Over Malibu Beach Colony

Out Of Control Fire Destroys 50 Homes, 20,000 Acres

MALIBU, Calif. — UP — Flames whipped by strong winds spread today over this movie colony resort area where one man has died, 50 homes have been destroyed and 20,000 acres have been blackened in a fast moving brush fire.

Fire fighters doubted the blaze could be brought under control for three or four days. Hundreds were forced to leave their homes. Two firemen and 20 others have been burned.

Canyon Evacuated

Fire Chief Keith Klinger of Los Angeles County massed most of his 1,000 firefighters during the night in the Latigo Canyon area where some 50 homes were in the path of the ## Good Evening!

There it is (was)— the first snow.

We'd like to see a foot of the stuff packed down in a deep-freeze for a month. If we're going to have winter, let's have it.

Anyhow, how about all those sleds, skates and skis the old man with the beard lugged down from the North Pole? You think the little guys don't want to give 'em a whirl?

Note to the kids: F'haven's sake, be careful with the bicycles. We've been dodging them on the streets and highways since yesterday morning.

Well, we see where U. S. Steel is planning to go ahead with its Fairless Hills expansion despite governmental refusal of tax aid.

That figured all along. It would be dandy if they'd get that job started and a half dozen other industries would move alongside so everything would be shipshape when the ships begin fog-horning up the newly-deepened Delaware.

Vandals all but wreck a lovely Bensalem township home and Chief Riempp brands them nothing but lunatics.

The chief had a job cut out for himself. The hoodlums should be brought to justice as quickly as possible.

Here's a tip: Spend a couple of hours doing the night-beat in Lower Bucks before the week is out.

You just never saw such beautifully decorated homes in your life. Hey, this Christmas business can last till spring for all we care.

In Montgomery, Ala., two buses were fired on but there were no injuries.

In Birmingham, Ala., Negroes voted to hit the industrial metropolis with a mass integration attempt but later toned down the threat with a suggestion that each Negro "use his own conscience" about where to ride.

In Mobile, Ala., where the bus firm voluntarily announced a desegregation policy later countermanded by the city commission—a morning check showed no attempt by Negroes to ride on front seats.

Nine .22-caliber slugs riddled one bus in Montgomery and shotgun fire smashed a rear window in another last night, causing occupants to "hit the floor." They escaped injury.

The gunfire failed to halt Negro integration efforts. They were sitting where they pleased again today without further incident.

As the situation grew tense in Birmingham, Alabama Public Service Commission President Jack Owen warned that the transit service there might be forced out of business if its "narrow margin of profit" is cut by integration moves.

The state guarantees public utilities a fair return on investments and Owen said the commission could not prevent the utility from dropping its franchise.

Twenty-one Birmingham Negroes were under arrest for violating segregation laws. At a midnight meeting Negro leaders switched plans and announced

Man Cleared In Rape Trial

A Bucks county criminal court jury took less than 45 minutes this morning to acquit a 28-year-old Trenton man of statutory rape charges involving a 15-year-old girl on the night of Aug. 12.

The jury, given the case shortly after 10:35 a.m., returned at 11:20 with the not guilty verdict in favor of Weldon Audette, 112 South Clinton avenue, a painting contractor.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite commended the jury for its action and said, "My own personal opinion was that your verdict was right."

Audette was accused by a 15-year-old Trenton girl of having relations with her while they were in a parked car near a Yardley home.

Mrs. Herman Margerum said she was "rocked out of bed" early this morning when the door of the oil burner was blasted from its hinges.

The basement of the apartment at 243 Washington street was filled with smoke and Mr. and Mrs. Margerum rushed from the building after calling the firemen.

Union Fire company and Capital View Fire company answered the call with more than 40 men. Chief Frank Cowell of Union said that no flames were evident and the smoke was choked out before any damage was done.

Vandals caused an estimated $10,000 damage to the home. The fireplace and screen, mirror over mantel, rugs, walls and other items were splattered with paint. (Courier and Times Photo)

Suez Clearing To Proceed Immediately

Egypt Allows UN Salvage Forces To Start On Canal

PORT SAID — UP — Clearing of the Suez Canal will start immediately, an official announcement said today.

Lt. Gen. Raymond A. Wheeler, chief of the United Nations salvage operations force, told United Press in an interview that work would begin at Suez in the south Friday. But the U.N. information office in Cairo and Cairo Radio announced that clearing operations should "start immediately," and quoted Wheeler as saying the work will begin today.

Wheeler, the retired American general in charge of the United Nations salvage operations, told the United Press he had received permission only today from the Egyptian government to begin the operations.

"We have been permitted to begin clearing operations in the Suez area tomorrow morning with salvor's equipment," he said.

"The Egyptian government's permission to start salvage operations was communicated to me this morning by Col. Mahmoud Younis, general manager of the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority."

Official sources in Cairo already had announced that an accord for canal clearance was reached in negotiations between UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi in New York.

But the announcement did not state when the work would begin. However, UN sources said they expected it to begin any time and

Burner Blast Rocks Morrisville Home

An explosion of an oil burner chased the President of The Morrisville Bank and his wife from their apartment at 5 a.m. this morning.

Mrs. Herman Margerum said she was "rocked out of bed" early this morning when the door of the oil burner was blasted from its hinges.

The basement of the apartment at 243 Washington street was filled with smoke and Mr. and Mrs. Margerum rushed from the building after calling the firemen.

Snow Flurries And Rain Sprinkle Lower Bucks Area

A fluffy sheet of old-fashioned snow fell over Lower Bucks about 4 a.m. this morning painting a winter wonderland scene for early morning risers.

Flurries began to fall again about 10 a.m. and the Weather Bureau at Trenton predicted light snow mixed with rain for early this evening.

No accumulation was expected, the weatherman said. This morning's snow was barely measurable but enough fell to coat automobiles, county streets, and homes with a visible picture of white, two days after Christmas.

Some light snow is expected this evening as temperatures dip from this afternoon's 30's to the middle 20's by morning.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with little change in temperature and little likelihood of snow, the weatherman said.

The weatherman predicted that snow might fall again by Sunday but present indications are again for no accumulation.

Snow ranging in depth from one to six inches blanketed most of Western Pennsylvania during the night, coating highways with ice and slush. Drivers were warned of extremely hazardous road conditions this morning.

Lighter snowfalls hit central and eastern sections of the state, but additional light snow, flurries and rain were forecast generally throughout Pennsylvania during the day.

490 Holiday Deaths Seen

(By UNITED PRESS)
With the shock of the worst holiday traffic toll in history still fresh in the nation's mind, safety experts predicted another 490 Americans will be killed needlessly during the New Year's week end.

The National Safety Council said it is counting on the "shock factors" of the all-time record Christmas holiday traffic slaughter to help hold down the toll this weekend.

The 490 figure is only 70 more than the normal rate of 420 deaths for a four-day period in December. The New Year's holiday begins at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight next Tuesday.

All-Time Record Smashed
A United Press count showed 713 persons were killed in traffic crashes during the four-day Christmas holiday, smashing the previous all-time record of 609 set

Accountant Plans Aid To Needy Fund

Another chapter has been added to the Immel story...aid is to be offered any Fairless Hills family or person with a true hardship case.

James Immel's new-found friend, Mervin Friedman, 229 Stanwood road, Fairless Hills, who is handling the Immel funds and helping him see that the bills get paid and into the right hands, has offered similar help to any Fairless family in "true hardship circumstances."

Mr. Friedman said, "I feel there's a real need in Fairless Hills for an aid group designed to help others help themselves."

The Fairless Hills accountant recognizes a universal need for such a society, but said, "I live in Fairless Hills and I feel it's our immediate need."

Paint Smears Cause $10,000 In Damage

Police today were searching for vengeance-minded vandals who caused an estimated $10,000 damage to the home of William H. States, Jr., Bensalem township school director and trucking firm head.

The vandals broke into the $25,000, 10-room home, located at Hulmeville road and Park avenue, Eddington, during the Christmas holidays and smeared nine gallons of paint over furniture, rugs, walls and clothing. Just about every personal belonging in the house was ruined by the paint.

Police Chief William Riempp called in Philadelphia police for assistance. He asked Police Commissioner Thomas Gibbons to send the crime laboratory to go over the home in the search for clues.

Meanwhile, the chief was trying to locate States who left with his family for Florida on a Christmas vacation last weekend. States' exact location was not known yesterday.

Chief Riempp said he would check States' background to see who might feel they had a reason to hate the victim.

After inspecting the shambles, Chief Riempp said, "Whoever did this must have had a bad hate. This job is too thorough for an ordinary case of vandalism."

Slashed Furniture
In addition to smearing and pouring the paint the vandals slashed the upholstered furniture in the living room.

States and his family were in Florida on a Christmas vacation at the time. The damage was discovered by his sister, Mrs. Ethel Correll, 436 St. Paul street, Philadelphia.

She said States called her 8:15 Saturday night and said he was leaving for Florida and asked her to check the house. Yesterday afternoon, she said, she went to the house to turn on the sump pump which keeps water out of the cellar.

When she saw what had happened she immediately notified Bensalem police.

Chief Riempp said the thieves had apparently broken open a safe which was located in a first

Man Acquitted Of Burglary

A Bucks County Criminal Court Jury last night acquitted Paul Bellino, Trenton, of a 1954 Morrisville burglary charge.

Bellino, defended by Attorney Alan Williams, Doylestown, denied the charges during his trial yesterday.

He was implicated in the $1000 burglary of the home of John Antibite, 147 Park avenue, Morrisville, on May 5, 1954, by Louis W. Hartel, Trenton.

Hartel, who testified against Bellino yesterday, previously pleaded guilty to the burglary and served time in prison.

The trial of Bellino was delayed because of other charges against the men involved.

Hartel had implicated three other men besides Bellino in the burglary.

One, Frank Monte, Trenton, was also acquitted by a previous criminal court jury.

Bucks Woman Killed By Car
A 68-year-old Hilltown township woman was killed yesterday afternoon by an automobile on Route 309 about a mile and a half south of Sellersville.

Mrs. Katherine Klumpp was dead on arrival at North Penn Hospital, Lansdale. She suffered a fractured skull and two broken legs.

The woman was killed after stepping from an Allentown to Philadelphia bus, following a shopping trip to Allentown.

Fairless Expansion Appears Set

Tax Cut Refusal Not Seen Halting Steel Mill's Growth

It appears that U.S. Steel Corp. will go ahead with the $94,400,000 expansion of the Fairless Works, although "disappointed" by its failure to get quick federal tax write-off benefits on the project.

A U.S. Steel statement this morning said the company "will do everything possible to continue its program with regard to its facilities." But it said the government's decision "will cause delays in the completion of some projects and deferment of others."

U.S. Steel did not name the Fairless Works, one of several plants where it plans enlargements costing a total of $400,000,000. The company last summer asked the U.S. Office of Defense Mobilization for permission to rapidly pay off the construction costs for exemptions that would defer some of the taxes until later years.

Defense Mobilizer Arthur S. Flemming late yesterday confirmed reports that he would not permit the tax aid, and said it would be restricted to national defense and "rock bottom" civilian needs in a full mobilization.

Tax Changes

U.S. Steel called for changes in the tax laws for the "basic solution to the financial difficulties of every industry where large amounts of money are needed for long-lived equipment."

The Fairless expansion was announced to take place over 18 months, and increase the plant work force from 6500 to 8500.

In all, the nation's steel industry requested the fast amortization for $2,300,000,000 in new machinery.

Final Levittown Home Lights Contest Judging Will Be Conducted Tonight

Court Delays Action In Safe Case

Two men implicated in the burglary of the Grodzky brothers' safe last summer in Bristol borough will return to court next month for disposition of their respective cases.

Both were scheduled to appear in Bucks County court today, one for trial and the other for sentencing.

The trial of Albert A. (Al) the Comet) Kunitis was stricken from today's list when the district attorney's office was informed that he is to be arraigned in Philadelphia on another charge.

Kunitis, the "mysterious" fifth man in the $12,000 unsuccessful burglary, has a long criminal record.

Stephen V. Burns, Philadelphia, who pleaded guilty to the burglary earlier, was to be sentenced today, but his sentence was deferred until the January term of criminal court.

Burns had his sentence deferred twice previously because of his wife's illness. His wife appeared in court with her neck in a brace.

The three others involved in the crime, including Dominic Latanzzi, Railroad avenue, Bristol, are currently serving prison terms after pleading guilty in the county court.

The trial of Edward Wuensche, Haboro, on worthless check charges was continued for the second time yesterday in Bucks County Criminal court.

Wuensche is accused of passing worthless checks in Bristol borough, including an offense which occurred after the ones for which he was first arrested.

Delay Hearing In Knife Case

The hearing scheduled last night for a Bristol Terrace woman charged with stabbing a business rival was continued until Jan. 10 when the victim was unable to appear.

The woman, Mrs. Carrie Brewington, 28, of Court C, Bristol Terrace II, was continued in $2000 bail by JP Earl B. Dougherty, of Edgely.

She is accused of slashing Wilbur Robinson, 30, with a six-inch paring knife 2:30 a.m. Christmas morning. Mrs. Brewington operates a hoagie shop on Magnolia road and Robinson has a similar business next door to her.

Bristol Township Patrolmen Edward Ellison and Wallace Michener, of the CID Squad, said a part of the blade snapped off and stuck in the socket of Robinson's left eye. Doctors at Lower Bucks County hospital, who removed the blade, said he would not lose the sight in the eye.

Mrs. Brewington was also cut on the right hand, when it slipped down over the blade as she was slashing Robinson, police reported. She was arrested at the hospital while being treated for the hand cut.

Sgt. Thomas Stewart, head of CID, said the exact cause of the fight is not known except that it had something to do with the couple's business rivalry.

Horn Blower Causes Crash

A Bristol motorist who "got excited" when a driver behind kept blowing his horn pulled out into the intersection of Routes 13 and 413, Bristol Township, last night and crashed into another car.

Louis Finsel, 30, of 431 Buckley street, told police he was driving south on Route 413 and had stopped at a traffic light.

Then a motorist in a car behind him started blowing his horn. Finsel said he became so excited that he didn't know whether the light was red or green. Also he said he thought the car blowing its horn might be an ambulance so he started forward.

His car collided with one driven by James Finan Jr., 34, of Williams street, Bristol, who was traveling east on Route 13.

Police estimate the damage to Finan's car at $250 and to Finsel's at $300. No one was injured.

ed money would be made available he said.

"We would lend the money to the person, and expect it to be paid back into the fund whenever it's possible to do so," Mr. Friedman said, "but we will never ask for the payment. It'd be up to the individual to bring the money back into the fund if he saw fit."

"I feel I'm wealthy enough to put such a plan into operation," Mr. Friedman said, "and I have a wonderful wife and two wonderful children to prove my wealth."

To Repay Loans

Mr. Immel has said that he will pay back all the money that was so freely given by Bucks county residents, just as soon as he is able. He has said that he would like to put the money into the proposed fund, thereby making the fund a reality.

Mr. Friedman asked anyone interested in forming such an aid group to contact him at his home at Wi 5-8749.

"If this fund organization comes about," Mr. Immel said, "it may be possible that no one will ever have to be in the shade and my family will be in."

Driver Committed To Bucks Prison

John Wood, 24, of Trenton, was committed to Bucks prison yesterday. He is serving 15 days for a traffic code violation and is being held for the grand jury on drunken driving and hit and run charges.

He was arrested by Falls Township police and committed by JP John Melvin, of Fallsington.

Seeing Levittown

When Mrs. Sheila Argall of Melbourne, Australia, arrived in this country, her first stop was to visit Mrs. James J. Smith, of 35 Mimosa lane, Magnolia Hills, Levittown. Mrs. Argall is employed by a film studio in Melbourne.

Remember, baby sitters are going fast. If you're planning to go out New Year's Eve, you'd better hire a baby sitter today. The administrator of the Levittown Community Baby Sitting service, Mrs. Vernetta Parks, reported today that only a few sitters do not have jobs. Her phone number is WI 5-3171.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. Way, 63 Horseshoe lane, Holly Hill, have constructed a beautiful Nativity scene on the front yard of their home. Due to the number of persons stopping to look at the scene last night, Mrs. Way had to stay up until 11:30 before she could turn off the lights on the 16 by 25 foot display. Also, make it a point to see the scene erected by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Halliwell, 108 Juniper drive, Juniper Hill. Live animals are housed in pens in front of the house.

chinery, rejected yesterday by Mr. Flemming.

At the Fairless Works, the expansion is to include open hearth and blast furnaces, sintering facilities, coke ovens, and improvements to the blooming mill. U. S. Steel did not ask the tax aid, however, for another new blast furnace at the Fairless Works.

Fuel Study

The U. S. Steel statement said the O. D. M. decision "not to reopen certain expansion goals" was based on "a thorough analysis of the problem after taking into consideration the intent of the Congress in establishing the amortization program."

"This decision will cause delays in the completion of some projects and detriment of others," the company said. "However, U. S. Steel will do everything possible to continue its program with regard to its facilities in order to supply the nation with the necessary steel in times of emergency as well as in times of peace."

Ten Stitches

Mudie was taken to Lower Bucks County hospital by Edward Lackowicz, 43 Good Rock road, Goldenridge, Levittown, a passing motorist who stopped at the scene of the accident.

Hospital officials said that 10 stitches were used to close a horizontal wound in the victim's head. He is in "satisfactory" condition at the hospital, officials said.

Mudie was named to the All-Lower Bucks County League second team in football this season.

Bensalem High Athlete Hurt In Accident

HUNTER (SAM) MUDIE

A Bensalem High school athlete was injured in an automobile crash yesterday at Newportville road and Harwood avenue, Bensalem township.

Hunter (Sam) Mudie, 1040 Park avenue, Eddington, a sophomore at the township high school, lost control of his car and slammed into a tree after he tried to avoid hitting a car driven by Mrs. L. C. Meyers, Bensalem Patrolman George Walker said.

Officer Walker said Mrs. Meyers failed to give a signal for a left-hand turn at the intersection, and as Mudie attempted to pass her, he was compelled to swerve his car off the road to avoid a collision.

Edwards Smith, 43, of 814 Dunbury road, Fairless Hills, was treated at Mercer hospital in Trenton for lacerations above the right eye and the mouth.

Smith told Falls township Patrolman Frank Gibson that a car was approaching in the opposite direction and to avoid a head-on crash he cut to the right and hit the pole.

He was taken to the hospital by the Morrisville ambulance.

Damage to the car was at the entire front end.

Pennsbury Sets Scholarship Talk

Directors of the newly formed Pennsbury Scholarship Foundation will meet tonight at the Fallington school at 8 p.m.

Publicity representative Peter Campbell said this morning that the directors will be trying "to get the wheels turning" so that the scholarship plan for needy students can become a reality soon.

Ice, Speed Blamed In 2 Rt. 1 Crashes

Ice and speed were responsible for two automobile crashes in Middletown township early today.

Police said a car driven by Ashur Baizer, 37, of Rhaca, N.Y., driving west on U.S. 1 toward Philadelphia, about 4:55 a.m. today, skidded on a patch of ice and slammed into an east-bound car driven by Carl Hall, 35, of Centerville, Ohio.

Officer Henry Bazarte estimated Baizer's car as a total loss and $300 damage to the Hall car.

Lodges Charges

Bazarte charged Baizer with driving too fast for conditions.

In other action, two and a half hours later, almost at the same spot — two miles west of Penn-del, a car, driven by Benjamin Sargis, traveling east on U.S. 1 toward Trenton, hit ice and spun into the path of a west-bound car driven by Frederick J. Schreffler, 40, of 57 Tanglewood lane, Levittown.

Given Summons

Sargis, 28, of 616 W. Chew street, Philadelphia, was given a summons for driving too fast for conditions, police said.

Middletown Township Patrolman Charles Bates, investigating the accident, said that Sargis' car was damaged about $500 and the Schreffler car was damaged about $800.

Schreffler, his daughter Judith Ann, 18, and Sargis were taken to Lower Bucks County Hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises about the face and body and released.

floor bedroom. He said he wouldn't know if anything was taken until he checked with States. But the chief said he found an empty case for binoculars, which apparently were stolen. Also he said it appeared that a shotgun and possibly a .38 pistol were taken.

So complete was the vandalism that little if anything was overlooked. In the bedrooms all of the clothing was dumped out of the drawers and closet onto the floor and paint poured over the pile. They even unzipped clothes bags in one closet and deliberately smeared paint on each suit hanging in them.

Nothing was spared from the paint. Even school pennants hung in the wall of one bedroom and lamp shades throughout the house were daubed.

The floors in each room were littered with clothes and other items dumped from drawers and closets.

The vandals also hit a bar and den in the cellar. States' collection of nearly 150 records was strewn over the floor of the den. The records were splattered with paint.

Chief Riemp said the vandals broke in through a rear cellar door, where they snapped a lock. They used paint States had stored in the cellar.

"This must have been done by someone who had been in the house before. They seemed to know just where everything was," the chief said.

He estimated the crime took place the afternoon of Christmas Day because some of the paint still was wet. An electric clock in the kitchen was stopped at 3:17.

Driver Injured Avoiding Crash.

A motorist was injured early last night after his vehicle struck a utility pole at South Olds boulevard and Hanford road in Fairless Hills.

Edward Smith, 43, of 814 Dunbury road, Fairless Hills, was treated at Mercer hospital in Trenton for lacerations above the right eye and the mouth.

Smith told Falls township Patrolman Frank Gibson that a car was approaching in the opposite direction and to avoid a head-on crash he cut to the right and hit the pole.

He was taken to the hospital by the Morrisville ambulance.

Damage to the car was at the entire front end.

leaping flames. The canyon was evacuated Wednesday.

Five bulldozers started cutting a firebreak Wednesday night from Malibu Lake to the coast in an attempt to cut off the fire endangering this movie colony located less than 25 miles from Hollywood.

The fire, second worst in the history of Los Angeles County, was burning over an 18-mile-perimeter. On the eastern flank near famed U.S. Highway 101, which runs along the coast, the blaze had turned Escondido Canyon into a raging inferno.

Lower Makefield Twp. Residents Hope For Sewer Improvements

Residents of Lower Makefield township may be getting a reprieve from the dampness felt in some of the area homes. Civic associations have claimed that seepage from improper drainage conditions has damaged some houses. A recent survey was made by representatives of the State Department of Water and Forests to check the leakage coming from the Delaware Division of the Pennsylvania Canal. It has been the contention of many of the civic associations that this is the cause of much of the area's trouble. The state representative examined various spots along the canal for possibilities of leakage. Some of the leakage is reported to be going into swamp lands in the township. Much of the leakage, the associations claim, is going into the homes. A report will be formulated by the state representative and state authorities will be advised as to the conditions of the canal. Lower Makefield township supervisors will be advised as to planned state action at a later date. The township supervisors are to report to the civic associations as to the progress of the sewer situation at the supervisors' next session on Jan. 7.

Bulb Burglars Still On Spree

It's two days after Christmas and the bulb snatchers are still running strong in Morrisville.

Morrisville police reported that five teenage youngsters were picked up yesterday and questioned in connection with stealing bulbs and accessories from the trees of local homes.

Police said that the young bulb snatchers were mostly 13 and 14-year-olds.

The boys were brought in to police headquarters and when asked why they took the bulbs, a spokesman for the group shrugged his shoulders and replied, "I don't know. It seemed like fun."

Police said the boys had promised to pay for the damage they did and the bulbs that were taken.

With accessories and fixtures, police estimated that costs might come close to $40 for the youngsters.

A recent survey was made by representatives of the State Department of Water and Forests to check the leakage coming from the Delaware Division of the Pennsylvania Canal.

It has been the contention of many of the civic associations that this is the cause of much of the area's trouble.

The state representative examined various spots along the canal for possibilities of leakage. Some of the leakage is reported to be going into swamp lands in the township. Much of the leakage, the associations claim, is going into the homes.

A report will be formulated by the state representative and state authorities will be advised as to the conditions of the canal.

Lower Makefield township supervisors will be advised as to planned state action at a later date.

The township supervisors are to report to the civic associations as to the progress of the sewer situation at the supervisors' next session on Jan. 7.

He was a veteran of World War I and served as a medical corps lieutenant. After discharge from service, he headed the hospital at Tullytown Arsenal.

He moved to Morrisville in 1926 from Tullytown. He was on the staff of Mercer Hospital, Trenton, and also was associated with Frankford Hospital. He also was a member of the Bucks County Medical Association and Pennsylvania State Medical Society.

Bulb Burglars Still On Spree

It's two days after Christmas and the bulb snatchers are still running strong in Morrisville.

Morrisville police reported that five teenage youngsters were picked up yesterday and questioned in connection with stealing bulbs and accessories from the trees of local homes.

Police said that the young bulb snatchers were mostly 13 and 14-year-olds.

The boys were brought in to police headquarters and when asked why they took the bulbs, a spokesman for the group shrugged his shoulders and replied, "I don't know. It seemed like fun."

Police said the boys had promised to pay for the damage they did and the bulbs that were taken.

With accessories and fixtures, police estimated that costs might come close to $40 for the youngsters.
